MISSION STATEMENT

Prince of Peace is a welcoming and engaged Catholic community dedicated to spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ through prayerful worship and sharing our gifts of charity, compassion and service.

11th SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

“To what shall we compare the kingdom of God, or what parable can we use for it? It is like a mustard seed that, when it is sown in the ground, is the smallest of all the seeds on the earth. But once it is sown, it springs up and becomes the largest of plants.”- Mk 4:30-32b

Deacon Jeff's Corner

As the Catholic Church prepares to hold the National Eucharistic Conference for the first time in 83 years in July, there is yet another reason to celebrate Jesus' divinity in what we receive at every Mass. The first millennial saint is about to be named!

Blessed Carlo Acutis, born in 1991 and who passed away from leukemia in 2006, has had a second miracle attributed to his intercession by Pope Francis on May 23. This paves the way for his canonization by the Catholic Church. This most recent miracle involved the healing of a 21-year-old from Costa Rica who was near death after seriously injuring her head in a bicycle accident. Not only did she live, but she has no repercussions from the accident. Family and friend prayers for healing and asking for the intercession of Blessed Carlo have been credited to him for her complete healing. The first miracle attributed to Blessed Carlo's intercession involved a 3-year-old boy who had been diagnosed with a malformation of his pancreas since birth. He too is completely healed.

This amazing young man fell in love with the Eucharist at his First Communion, even though his parents were not especially devout. HE is the one who brought his parents back to the Mass; how wonderful is that? He went to daily Mass before school almost every day by himself, and even prayed the Rosary daily.

Here are a small sample of his quotes as a young teenager, even after his diagnosis of leukemia:

"The Virgin Mary is the only woman in my life."

"By standing before the Eucharistic Christ, we become holy."

"Sadness is looking at ourselves; happiness is looking towards God."

"The more Eucharist we receive, the more we will become like Jesus, so that on earth we will have a foretaste of Heaven."

As he was dying, he said this: "Do not be afraid because with the Incarnation of Jesus, death becomes life, and there is no need to escape. In eternal life, something extraordinary awaits us."

Blessed Carlo's body lies in a church in Assisi, Italy and is incorrupt (no decay). People are able to come and view him, as well as ask for his intercession with their needs. It is examples like these that make the Catholic Church the target of many, but to those who believe, no explanation is necessary.

The question is: Do YOU believe?

A Reflection on Today's Readings

Many years ago I had a dream of turning a portion of a field into a forest. Money was tight, so I decided to plant oak trees from seed. I had three 18-yard semis of shredded bark delivered to my home and my son and two of his friends spent the entire summer spreading the mulch with wheelbarrows. I hope some day they can forgive me!

Once the bark broke down and created rich soil, I planted the acorns with dreams of majestic oak trees. The problem was, I was impatient and lacked faith in the process; every few weeks I pulled up some of the seedlings to see how they were doing. Planting a tree from seed takes time-lots of time. And while growth often appears on the surface, it first occurs underground, in the dark, beginning with a strong taproot. In pulling up the seedlings and replanting them, I was only inhibiting their growth.

Today's readings illustrate these life lessons. In the first reading, the prophet Ezekiel describes a shoot taken from the large cedar that grows into a majestic tree. The tree is planted and sustained by God, and with God's care it becomes strong. The mustard seed in Mark's gospel requires the same kind of care and patience. Our journeys unfold in much the same way: growth happens gradually. It begins with a strong foundation rooted in God and with the kind of faith that Paul talks about in his letter to the Corinthians.

As for those trees planted many years ago, they are now beautiful oak trees, tall and strong. They got that way—not because of an impatient gardener—but by the God who created them and sustains them.

WAYS TO SHARE THE FAITH WITH YOUR FAMILY DURING THE SUMMER - PART 1

Today, let's focus on how to help your family grow spiritually. At your child's Baptism you promised to raise them in the faith. How's this going? Some people say it's harder in summer with the children out of school and vacations. However, others think summer lends itself to many new and different ways to grow spiritually. Weekly Mass of course is #1. Prince of Peace offers a 6PM Mass on Sundays which is especially nice for those who travel up north on the weekends or like to sleep in. There are so many other things you can do as parents to help your family with their spiritual growth. According to Dr. Lisa Miller, Professor at Teachers College, Columbia University, practicing spiritual parenting doesn't have to be hard. Integrating spiritual teaching along with guiding your child in learning values and respect for others is fairly easy to do. Here are some examples of how to integrate spirituality into family life this summer:

- 1.) Pick a family bible verse. Make it your family motto and put it in a place where everyone sees it. Touch base each week to find how the verse has impacted your lives. Example: "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." Philippians 4:13. There are many more verses. If you need some, just email.
- 2.) Go on a "nature walk." Explain that the things you find are beautifully made by God. Praise God for what you see, hear, and smell. Take pictures and make a file called "I see God in nature."
- 3.) Use the light of a bonfire, candle, the sun, or moon to make connections to Jesus as our Light and Light of the World.
- 4.) Remind your child that good manners apply to their conversations with God, too. Teach your child that prayers before meals or bed can be a way to say "please" and "thank you" to God. Thank God each day for something or someone different. Write it in a journal or put them in a gratitude jar.
- 5.) Create a family prayer chart/calendar. Post this in a shared place. Pray for each other, relatives, friends, or special needs each day. Schedule time each week to update the chart and celebrate God at work.
- 6.) Same as 5, but create a family calendar with a "Word of the Day" such as faith, hope, mercy, justice, perseverance, self-control, peace, patience, humility, gratitude, courage...
- 7.) Together, make a visit to an elderly relative, neighbor, or friend. Help out if you can. Teach your child that God is smiling on the loving attention given to this special person.

To be continued... Watch for Part 2 - More summer family faith building ideas in next weekend's bulletin!

Join us on June 19th for a Kickball Tournament with St. Bernard's beginning at 6:30 PM at St. Bernard's.
